Gay, Costumed Students Make Merry at Gala Mardi Gras Ball

by Doris Rosenberg

EXOTIC HAREM GIRLS and flirty flappers were on hand Friday night as the University's first Winter Weekend got under way.

Numerous lands and eras were represented at the gala Mardi Gras Ball, which was held at Georgetown Hospitality Hall. Hundreds of merry-makers, many dressed in extravagant costumes of Persia, Mexico, China, early America and eighteenth-century England, danced to the music of the Melodaires beneath festive decorations.

1956 Cherry Tree Queen Ann Williams and other cast members of "Damn Yankees" were also present at the dance. Sherry O'Neill, who plays the leading role of Lola in the Musical, joined in the spirit of the evening by wearing an elegant mask of sparkling pink to match her dress.

Prexy

Student Council Prexy Roy Barnard showed up with a live chicken to give an extra air of authenticity to his farmer's costume. His date was dressed like a farmer's wife. One original twosome came as a clothe-line, while another couple came as a pair of life-sized aces. Also prominent among the crowd was a wild game hunter and his tiger costumed date.

Intermission featured the selection of an elaborate, bearded sultan, Sandy Morrison, as King of the Ball. Professor Lubin Poe Leggett of the Speech Department was the judge. The king was crowned by Ann Williams and presented with a cup. His date, Marby Adams, reigned as queen. Miss Adams was dressed in lavender as a harem girl, with a jewel-bedecked weskit of gold satin.

Jazz Contest

Saturday afternoon witnessed a jazz battle between "Wild Bill" Whelan's dixieland, and Chick Wayne's modern jazz quintet at Lisner Auditorium. Whelan's afgregation poured forth with numbers including "Sweet Georgia Brown," and Wayne with "Lover Man," and "Flying High." Micky

Croce and Roscoe Sweeny dished out mid concert jokes and impersonations.

New Editor Prepares Plans for Handbook

by Betsy Evans

THE NEWLY CHOSEN Student Handbook editor, Jim Newheiser, is preparing next fall's edition of the freshman aid.

An advertising campaign has been in full swing for the past two weeks, and the size and content of the book will be determined by the success of this campaign. For the first time, the book will be paid for by advertisements.

Mr. Newheiser plans to supplement the familiar handbook illustrations with photographs of University scenes and activities. A "where-to-go" section will answer such questions as the idea of keeping it on your desk for four years," says Mr. Newheiser.

Library Holds Fifth Exhibit Of Washington

A LARGE REMBRANDT Peale portrait of George Washington keynotes the fifth annual exhibition of "George Washington: the Man" in the University library this month.

The Peale portrait was purchased by the University in October 1, 1955, from Walter F. Chrysler, Jr. In the portrait Washington's face is amazingly alive.

A collection of Currier and Ives prints of Washington, lent by the Library of Congress, are on display on the first and second floors. In the second floor lobby is an extensive exhibit of colonial coins, currency and early District of Columbia bank notes, lent by the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York City.

Cherry Tree

THE 1956 Cherry Tree sales campaign will continue through February 24.

Orders for the annual are being taken in the Student Union lobby for $6. Campus Combo holders will receive yearbooks without charge upon its distribution in May.

"Where do you register?" and "Where do you find a job?" If possible, more space will be devoted to fraternities and sororities, with two individual sections replacing the portion of the current handbook labeled "Greeks," said Mr. Newheiser. The back section of the book will include a shopper's guide.

"We'd like to give the book a permanent appearance and to sell

University Selects Blossom Princess

PRINCESS JEEVES

... Goes to Shenandoah

JUDY JEEVES WAS selected as the University's Apple Blossom Princess from a field of over twenty candidates at a tea February 8 in Woodhull House.

Miss Jeeves will represent the University in the 29th annual Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival in Winchester, Virginia, in April. The competition was sponsored by the Student Council. The princess was named after each of the candidates had had a five-minute interview with the board of judges.

Judges were Miss Jane Rosenberger, Student Activities Assistant; James N. Mosel, associate professor of speech, and James N. Coberly, associate professor of American literature. The contest was under the chairmanship of Dick Sincoff, Student Council Member-at-large.

Miss Jeeves was nominated by Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity and runners-up were Ellen Raley, nominated by Chi Omega sorority, and Ann Bageant, candidate from the Women's Athletic Association.

A junior majoring in journalism, the Princess is a member of Pi Beta Phi, Rifle Club, R.O.T.C., and the women's varsity basketball team. She is a graduate of Mount Vernon Junior College.

D. C. Expands Renewal Area

THE DISTRICT COMMISSIONERS approved recently a 38 block "urban renewal" area expanding the originally planned redevelopment boundaries.

The approved boundaries extend from Pennsylvania Ave. on the north to the Potomac River on the south and 19th St. on the east and an irregular boundary on the west, according to a story in the Evening Star. The action followed an open hearing by the District Commissioners and a special committee of the University. President Cloyd H. Marvin, and Treasurer, Henry W. Herzog also attended the hearing.

The new area will provide space for future University development and buildings planned for the project area include a new law center, a gymnasium, four additional dormitories, and two classroom buildings.

The redevelopment program for this area will leave existing buildings and entire blocks intact unlike redevelopment projects in Southwest Washington where entire areas are wiped clean of existing structures. E.S.A.

Council Sells Theater Tickets

"ANN WILLIAMS Day" tickets for the matinee performance of "Damn Yankees" at the National Theater February 22 are now on sale.

The Student Council has reserved a block of 200 tickets, in the front rows of the upper balcony. The tickets are $1.65 and will be sold today and tomorrow at noon and from 5 to 7 in the Student Union.

Ann Williams, 1956 Cherry Tree Queen, joined the touring company of "Damn Yankees" in January. Miss Williams has appeared in "The Skin of Our Teeth" starring Helen Hayes and George Abbott, the producer of "Damn Yankees." Her last appearance at Lisner Auditorium was with the University Players in "The Curious Savage."

"Damn Yankees" is the musical adaptation of Douglas Wallop's "The Year the Yankees Lost the Pennant." The newly formed touring company of last season's Broadway production stars Bobbie Clark. The play revolves around a forlorn Washington Senator baseball fan who sells his soul to the devil for a pennant. "Whatever Lola Wants" and "You've Gotta Have Heart" are among the show's musical numbers.

George Washington's birthday, a legal and school holiday, was selected for "Ann Williams Day" to allow more students to attend. Reservations may be picked up February 17, 20 and 21. Rosa Wiener is in charge of ticket sales.

Men Cultivate Yearly Beards

THE INCREASE IN CHIN foliage around the University heralds the forthcoming Beard-Growing Contest and Shipwreck Ball of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity.

A stag party will be held for all bearded contestants Wednesday, February 22 and a prize will be awarded. All beards are eligible except those of PIKA men.

The Shipwreck Ball will be held on February 25, 9 to 1, at the Hyattsville Armory. Admission is free to all University students. A map will be posted in the Student Union giving directions to the dance.

Money for the dance was raised through sales of chances around the University. The Ball is under the Co-chairmanship of Warren Lytle and John Posta.

Activities Fair

THE 1956 ACTIVITIES Fair will swing out February 24 at 7:30 p.m. in the lower lounge and the Dimmock Room of Lisner Auditorium.

Beverly Borden, chairman of the Fair, will hold her final planning session tomorrow at 3 p.m. in the conference room of the Student Union Annex. University organizations open to student membership and desiring to increase interest in their activities through the Fair may send representatives to this meeting.

Toomey Directs Fund Raising for Orchestra

• THE UNIVERSITY, under the direction of Mr. John Toomey of the Public Relations Office, is participating in the National Symphony Orchestra's Sustaining Fund campaign.

The Fund makes it possible for students to attend concerts, both in Lisner and Constitution Hall, at special student rates. It also makes possible the free concerts for children given every year.

Each year the member-at-large of the Student Council conducts a student-rate ticket campaign.

Richard Sincoff, this year's member-at-large, conducted the 1955 campaign which allowed students to attend ten concerts for $5.00 and twenty for $9.00.

Contributions of any size will make these benefits possible next year. Contributions can be mailed to: Mr. John Toomey, 2018 Eye St., N. W.

Free tickets to a Pops Concert next season will go to every contributor who gives $5.00 or more to the Sustaining Fund campaign.

Hark, Combo!

• THE WEEKENDS COME, the weekends go, and like all things, some are better than others.

The last, Winter Weekend, qualified as one of the best. Under the direction of Co-Chairmen Phyllis Mignonne and Dick Giesler, Campus Combo's 1956 innovation was hailed as a huge success.

Fortunately, the Weekend came at the beginning of the semester. A little later on and all that activity would have been too much for the hardest student or most perennial partier.

A lot of credit goes to the committees who planned the Winter festivities. It took work to set up house decorations, a Mardi Gras ball, a jazz concert and fraternity open houses, all to take place within 36 hours. The results should be encouraging to future Combo event planners. But think! An innovation a year could get a little bit out of hand. Hark, Combo!

The Interim Advocate

• THE STUDENT COUNCIL is accepting petitions for two interim appointments now which we would like to urge you to consider carefully.

Not to slight the School of Government representative, who is certainly necessary and will have quite a bit to do this spring, the position of advocate is extremely important.

The Council's advocate is placed in charge of the spring elections, a duty that requires a lot of careful work. Whoever receives the office will serve on the Council for what looks like a very short period of time, but within his two months' service he will have an opportunity to ensure the caliber of next year's Council.

A Council depends on the quality of the candidates and the cooperation of the electorate. The advocate must check the qualifications of those who wish to run, matching them against those required by the Council's constitution. He must also set up the election forum which precedes the balloting. A better turnout for the campaign speeches would be encouraging and beneficial to the voters.

The actual mechanics of balloting and vote counting must be scrupulously supervised. All in all, the advocate's job is not one to be undertaken lightly.

Let's see some worthwhile candidates to fill the vacancy, and guarantee a good 1956 Student Council.

Council Capers

by Doris Rosenberg

• PAST AND FUTURE Homecomings were the main topic of discussion at last week's Student Council meeting, the first of the spring semester.

Jim Rudin, last year's Member-at-Large, was present at the meeting to give his ideas and opinion on last year's controversial popular-vote method of selecting a Homecoming Queen. As a member of last year's Council, which originated and passed the motion giving the students a voice in selecting their Homecoming Queen, Mr. Rudin stated several reasons why he believes it is a good thing and should be continued.

Speaking on behalf of the 1954-1955 Council members, Mr. Rudin said that they would like to see this popular-vote method continued, and that it would not be fair to last year's Council or to the student body if it were not.

'Rudin Motion'

The motion has been given the title of the "Rudin Motion," as it was Jim Rudin who actually made the motion. However, it was not his idea alone, he said. The whole Council helped to make and revise it, gave it considerable thought and many hours' discussion, and then passed it "unanimously and in very good faith," he added.

Another important and, as it turned out, controversial aspect of Homecoming was also brought before the Council. Carol Picton, last year's Homecoming Co-chairman, appeared at the meeting to get the Council's decision as to the date for the 1956 Homecoming Weekend, and also the place where the dance will be held. The evening of November 27, following the afternoon game with William and Mary at Griffith Stadium, was decided upon for the time, and the Sheraton Park Hotel Ballroom was finally chosen as the place to hold the dance.

Save $900

This ballroom is the only available one in the area that is large enough to hold the Homecoming crowd, and is considered the most beautiful and elaborate ballroom in Washington by Miss Picton and all Council members who have been there. Perhaps the biggest advantage is the price, which is only $1,000, $900 less than the cost of renting the Armory.

Two possible ways were suggested to make use of the extra money. One possibility would be to lower the price of the dance tickets; the other, to use the money to get a better band. The Homecoming Committee could get the top band in the country with that extra money, Miss Picton said. She added that they were very lucky this year to get Les Elgart for the price they did. With a big name band and the elegant ballroom, which has a balcony over the dance floor, "Homecoming would be something greater than it's ever been before," Miss Picton said enthusiastically.

Two Drawbacks

There are two drawbacks to the

Co-Chairmen Remain Here After WW

by Elva Schroebel

• THE FIRST meeting was called and everyone made it, everyone except the chairman who called it! The Winter Weekend committee got off to an unfortunate start, but, under chairmen Phyllis Mignonne and Dick Geisler, they went all out to produce the gala events of last weekend.

"It's been a lot of fun," says Phyllis of the project she's been working on since last fall. Dick agrees, but still talks about an idea of his calling for a kangaroo court to be held in the Union to advertise Winter Weekend.

In addition to their work on Winter Weekend, both Co-chairmen are busy about school. Phyllis is president of her sorority, Kappa Delta, and is in what she terms the "usual activities." These include the Panhellenic Council (of which she is treasurer), Delphi and Big Sis.

A Brooklyn Girl

From Brooklyn, New York, she chose the University because it was "a city college, away from home," and she stayed because "the school has an atmosphere all its own and a wonderful variety of people."

Phyllis is a junior, majoring in speech correction, and hopes some day to work in a hospital.

Dick is also president of his fraternity, Sigma Chi. Just initiated last February, he had previously held the jobs of Pro Counsel and house manager. "That house manager job was the greatest," he says. "I got to throw everybody out at two."

Dick Who's Who

Social chairman of Welling Hall, member of Old Men, chairman of the Athletic Committee of IFC and secretary of the Intramural Athletic Board, Dick was recognized this year by Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities as someone who is.

Dick came from Breckenridge, Penn., "home of stainless steel," on a football scholarship and has played center on the team for four years. He thinks the school is "terrific. G. W. really grows on you. The longer you stay the longer you want to stay."

Still in Town

Interviewed while selling tickets for Winter Weekend, he commented, "If it's a flop, I'm leaving town."

Well, he's still in town.

by Hester Heale

• GREETINGS.

The event of the week was the first Winter Weekend. The Mardi Gras Ball was much fun, with dozens of costumes ranging from animals to inanimate objects to people. Delt pledge Sandy Morrison was crowned King of the Ball by Ann Williams, member of "Damn Yankees," and Marby Adams, his date and Queen of the Ball, was dressed as a harem girl to complement Sandy's sheik costume.

Among the group I saw Doris Rosenberg, the Ace of Diamonds, numerous flappers, and Chi O pledge, Sandy Monti costumed as a lion and chained to her moped date, Viddy British.

SN Roy Barnard, recalling the Student Council campaign of last spring, roamed in as a farmer, complete with live chicken. SX Paul Welch silvered his hair to impersonate a Spanish grandee (name of Bruno?), and was seen in his Saturday morning class strangely aged. Paul's date, KKG Phyllis Charnley, was a Spanish lady.

FIKA was entertained after the Ball by members of the "Damn Yankees" cast. Many songs sparked the evening and all present were entertained by a group of the brothers giving their unique rendition of "The Game." Oh, the glory of it all...

Kappa Alpha Order opened rush season with a huge blast on Thursday night for rush men and their dates, with a true ball that reminded one of the glorious days of the recent past.

The change of semesters seems to be conducive to pinnings and engagements, judging from the long list of same turned into Foggy this week. SK announces the pinning of pledge Elaine Hartwell to SX Dick Claypool; the engagement of Joan Hogan to PhiSig Steve Bauk; and the Saturday wedding of pledge Pat Bennett.

Also married on Saturday was KD Joan Duke.

A small party was held by the SAE's to celebrate the pinning of alum John Buckingham to Betty Sauders. Another SAE biting the well-known dust is Marty Barley, who recently became pinned to Phippi Betsy Silver. The brothers celebrated their first-place home decorations with mint jellies, sipped by Warren Barley, Kathy Blackburn, Chris Catoe, and many, many others. On Sunday Dooley Cliffe and laughing Ed Crump, along with others, consumed gigantic portions of Jack Hotaling's spaghetti. Diets, anyone?

Student Council Veep Norm Cohen recently became engaged to Maryland U. co-ed Marilyn Weltz. But there's more... Connie McDavitt, KKG pledge, is pinned to SX George Dancu, Frances Wolf is engaged to Irv Gendelman, Betty Lou Horenstein is engaged to Abbie Berenter, and Charlotte Frankel is engaged to Phi Alpha Marty Flax.

In all fraternity houses the evening of HELP week were filled with mild party games, such as "Kidnapping the Actives," to the delight of all (all the pledges, that is). Elsewhere Phi Sig pledges entertained customers at the Silver Dollar.

Since I didn't get a chance to say it last week, welcome to all you new G. W.-ites. Remember, turn in your items to Hester and you, too, can be a BMOC. That's all for now. See you next week, kiddies.

Toodles.

Petitions

• THE STUDENT COUNCIL is accepting petitions for several offices.

Applicants for 1956-57 Campus Combo co-chairmen may petition until March 2. Students interested in serving the remainder of the current Student Council term as advocate or School of Government Representative may apply until February 17.

The advocate will be in charge of the spring elections and a forum preceding them.

Petitions can be obtained in the Office of Student Activities.

'Scientific Prayer Cures' Says Carey in Speech

• "PRACTICAL APPLICATION of scientific Christianity is making a vital contribution to public health and well-being," said Dr. Archibald Carey, C.S.B., of Detroit, Michigan, in a Christian Science lecture February 9.

A member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, Dr. Carey spoke in Lisner Lounge under the auspices of the Christian Science Organization.

Speaking on the subject "Christian Science: How God Heals," Dr. Carey said that if every individual could be taught to maintain his own individual immunity to disease, public health problems would be solved.

Healing Sickness

Healing sickness and avoiding disease are a part of a Christian Scientist's religion, he explained. The Christian Scientist is conscientious in protecting public health by reporting specified diseases to the health authorities and obeying quarantine regulations, said Dr. Carey.

As the image and likeness of God, man is incorporeal, he said, adding that man's true identity is "not dependent upon a physical body, but, on the contrary the body is controlled by thought."

He described Christian Science treatment as the "utilization of the power of Truth over error to heal sickness, to solve human problems." This method of healing uses only the power of truth, over error and is entirely different from psychotherapy, psychosomatic medicine or "any system that is based on the assumption that the body controls man," he maintained.

Scientific Prayer Cures

Through scientific prayer "sickness is healed, poverty and lack of opportunity give way to abundance and progress, difficult business and home conditions are replaced by co-operation and appreciation," he declared.

The most important factor in healing physical disorders or in solving other problems is prayer, he maintained.

Mlle. Awards Fiction Prizes

• MADEMOISELLE will award $500 to each of the two winners of its annual College Fiction Contest.

The contest is open to all women undergraduates, under 26 years of age, regularly enrolled and seeking a degree in the University. Stories published only in undergraduate publications are eligible. All entries must be original and fictitious, and must be postmarked before midnight, April 15, 1956.

Winners and runners-up will be announced in the 1956 August College issue of Mademoiselle. Runners-up will receive honorable mention and Mademoiselle reserves the right to purchase their work at regular rates.

Entries should be 2,500 to 5,000 words and more than one may be submitted. Stories must be type-written, double-spaced, on one side of the paper only. Name, age, home address, school address, and school year must be included.

A manila envelope, 9"x11", self-addressed and self-stamped should be enclosed for return manuscripts. Mademoiselle assumes no responsibility for manuscripts. The decision of the judges, Mademoiselle's editors, is final.

Hillel Heralds Ball Of Fire

• THE TENTH ANNUAL HILLEL Ball of Fire will light up the Madison Arms Hotel on March 3 from 9 to 1.

A highlight of the evening will be the crowning of "Apollo," who will be chosen from candidates nominated by fraternities, sororities and other University organizations.

Lee Maxfield's orchestra will play for dancing.

Leon Salzberg is chairman of the committee planning the affair. Members are Dave Steinman, Esther Cohen, Sherry Zvares and Norman Klaben.

FAMOUS LAW CASES: NO. 1—GRANSMIRE VS. MIDDLE ATLANTIC BUS AND DRAY CO.

Gransmire, the plaintiff in this celebrated case, lived with his daughter Ernest and a canary named Whirlaway on Elm Street in Cooch, Delaware. The Middle Atlantic Bus and Dray Co. started operating a bus line on Elm Street. The passing buses caused a cut-glass chandelier in the Gransmires' living room to begin tinkling. The chandelier tinkled in the key of E-flat. This so unnerved the canary, Whirlaway, whose key was C-sharp, that the poor bird moulted out of season, caught a chill, and died untimely.

Ernest, Gransmire's daughter, was herself so unsettled by the death of the canary that she flunked her final exams at the Boar's Head Beauty and Barber College, where she had been a promising student, majoring in bangs. Now removed, willy-nilly, from the skilled labor market, Ernest found work carrying a sandwich sign for the old Vienna Chow Mein parlor.

Here she met a bus-boy named Crunch Sigafoos. Although Crunch was not especially attractive — he had, for one thing, a large bushy tail — he was always clean and neat and kept his shoes shined, and after a decent interval, he and Ernest were married.

Ernest soon learned that Crunch's large bushy tail was not as anomalous as she had supposed: Crunch was a werewolf. After a while Ernest got sick of staying home at night while her husband went prowling about, so she asked him to change her into a werewolf too, which he did with an ancient Transylvanian incantation. Then, together, the two of them would lope out each night and meet a lot of other werewolves and maybe kill a few chickens or hear some book reports or just lay around and shoot the breeze.

Meanwhile, Ernest and Crunch's landlady, a miser named Mrs. Augenblick, noticed that Ernest and Crunch never used their room at night, so she, in her greed, started renting it to transients. One night a Mr. Ffolliott stayed there. In the morning while brushing his hair, he took a bottle that looked like hair tonic out of the cabinet, poured some, and rubbed it vigorously into his scalp. Unfortunately, it was not hair tonic, but a bottle of glue which Ernest had bought to mend a model airplane that Crunch had given her for their paper wedding anniversary.

As a result of Mr. Ffolliott's grisly error, he was unable to remove his hat and was, therefore, barred from his usual occupation which was lecturing to women's clubs. He sued Mrs. Augenblick, who sued Ernest, who went to her father, who sued the Middle Atlantic Bus and Dray Co. who had started the whole horrid chain of events.

"Ladies and gentlemen," said the defense attorney in his opening address, "this case, though very ramified, is covered by law. Indeed, every facet of life is covered by law. Law governs the homes you live in, the cars you drive, the food you eat. Even the cigarette you smoke is strictly regulated. The gentleness, however, is Philip Morris's own idea. Out of their vast experience as tobacco people, out of their profound regard for the astuteness of your palate, the makers of Philip Morris have evolved a gentle, new cigarette, with a taste as mild as a May morn, as subtle as gossamer, as welcome as money from home. I thank you."

Whereupon everybody rushed to the tobacco counter to buy bright red, white and gold packs of Philip Morris and were all rendered so amiable after a few gentle puffs that the whole complicated case was dropped. This later became known as the Delaware Water Gap.

We, the makers of Philip Morris, sponsors of this column, rest our case on our new, gentle cigarette in our new, smart pack.

Pledges Start 'Help Week'

• FRATERNITY pledges at the University observed their annual "Help Week" January 30 through February 3 by aiding in Washington's March of Dimes Campaign. Pledges manned the microphones at the polio drive collection booth in front of the Palace Theater January 31.

"Help Week" was inaugurated three years ago by the Inter-fraternity Council to replace the traditional "Hell Week."

"The general public too often associates fraternities with the hazing practices of the old 'Hell Week,'" says Jack Crehore, IFC president. "We hope that with 'Help Week' we can help change this impression and at the same time perform a worthwhile public service," he continued.

Plan Offers Students Life in Foreign Lands

• WOULD YOU LIKE to travel but not be a tourist?

Thursday evening, February 16, at 8 Miss Patricia Keagan will describe the Experiment in International Living program in Woodhull C. Miss Keagan is the Washington representative for the Experiment, which runs from its home office in Putney, Vermont. She will show colored slides of Experimenters, the places they visited, and answer questions concerning the program.

The Experiment, according to its brochure, "exists for the sole purpose of creating better understanding among the people of the world. Emphasizing the home as fundamental educational factor, the Experiment endeavors to build mutual friendship and respect at the grass-root level by giving people the opportunity to become members of families of other lands."

It was founded in 1932 and exchanges students and other young people from various countries on a non-profit basis. Experimenters spend the summer in the home of a family in the country of their choice. Some go in language groups and speak the country's language.

Several people connected with the University have participated in the Experiment. Mr. Joseph Metivier, Professor of French, led a group to France last summer. Seven girls and three boys went with him. They were each placed in a home which had a child about their age in it to act as a "brother or sister." The students would have group meetings with Mr. Metivier and before they came home everyone, French and American, connected with the group went on a camping trip.

Student Experiments

Renold Lambert, a freshman in the Junior College, heard of the Experiment through a friend who had applied. He spent last summer in Delle, France, speaking French only. Mr. Lambert praises the Experiment because it allows you to "see the country from the inside." He took a bicycle tour through Brittany and spent a week in Paris.

Arthur Bechoeffer, a sophomore in the University division, went to Holland with the Experiment in 1953 after he heard a lecture from a former experimenter who visited his high school. He still corresponds with his Dutch "family." While there, he spent ten days sailing the Zeider Zee. In Mr. Bechoeffer's group, there were both American and Dutch students.

Meeting Feb. 16

Anyone who feels he would be interested in participating in the Experiment at some time has been invited to attend the meeting on February 16.

Further information about the Experiment and application blanks are available in the Student Placement Office.

SHULTON New York • Toronto

by Dick Sincoff

• THE CONFIDENCE THAT I harbored so fiercely has this season undergone an undue quantity of disillusioning shocks and has now reached a membranous texture. Perhaps it would even be more realistic—though rude to us who have lived Colonial basketball for these last few years—to finally admit that the Colonials are just another ball team, with a star of great brilliance who cannot alone carry the load.

In the light of the experience of this team and in their performances of past seasons, it is even more astounding what this season has revealed. If it seems to you a hypocritical reversal of my stand of last week that we were recovered and would pulverize any group who dared run upon the same court, I can only offer the defense that opinions must necessarily be questioned when adverse circumstance prove too great to be ignored.

Through the years, I have grown closer to basketball here than to any other sport. With these boys I have traveled, eaten, talked. I have seen them play the best teams and the worst, and I have seen them win and lose. However, close I may feel though, it is only fair that I be "on the level" in my thoughts.

George Washington is not a bad basketball team, but it is right now just one of a lot of pretty good ones. It does not look the champion, notwithstanding that it may be one before very long. The vast potential that the squad exudes is not consistently realized. The team runs hot and cold, one night capable of humiliating any team, but the next night being humiliated by a school which was expected to quake at the mere mention of the initials G. W. To me, this is not the mark of a champion team.

At Fort Myer Saturday night there was a team that played and looked a winner. They defended beautifully, shot when opportune and with accuracy, and played a team game that was—however much we despise the Terps—just as pretty as a picture. Maryland had G. W. strung up by their thumbs and how they loved it. And how we cried. The Colonials were played clean out of their short pants, and they were helpless. When it was obvious that the Buff were miserable, they panicked and Maryland calm and sure, dominated the whole show.

A really good team keeps its head, takes advantages of openings, creates and capitalizes on breaks. The Colonials do on occasion. A good team is crisp, lively and vigorous, and I don't mean the vigor that comes from anger, for that has no direction and too often proves a hindrance. For G. W. to express such vitality sometimes, is not enough.

Spring Drills Start For Football Team

• WITH THE THERMOMETER registering near spring temperatures the University's 1956 football candidates met yesterday at Frog Island for the season's first practice session.

Head coach Bo Sherman saw more than 40 men turn out for the initial drill. Southern Conference rules allow Sherman a 20-day practice and an additional day for the intra-squad tussle within a 30-day period.

Returning lettermen, back for another year of inter-collegiate competition, are ends, Paul Thompson and Bill Berry; tackles, Dave Liddick, Bill McHenry and Bob Jewett; guards, Ed Sakach, George Solack, Bob Sutton and Ray Murray; center, Joe Hince; quarterback, Ray Looney; half-back, Mike Sommer; and full-backs, Bo Austin and Dick Claypool.

• IF ENTHUSIASM IS the measure of success the newly formed University Rowing Club should have a bright future. Although no legal agreement has yet been made, the oarsmen expect to call the Potomac Boat Club their home port. The much needed boat, its called a shell by those in the know, will come either from the Naval Academy or Princeton. And since conditioning is the cry with today's collegiates the entire squad will start roadwork and calisthenics sometime next week. . . . G. W. MEN WITH the guns, the Rifle

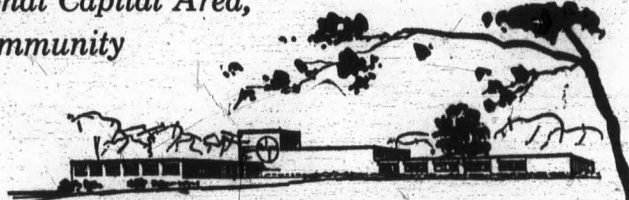

Team had their first serious encounter of the current season when they met the Georgetown U. firing squad two weeks ago. In spite of a sterling effort they came out a few points short of victory. Of a possible 1500 markers the Colonial sharpshooters hit for 1360 while the Hoyas scored 1399. Paul Nordquist was the sharpest shooter of all with 281 points out of a possible 300. Jim Brock hit for 280. By this time you're probably wondering how the judges arrive at such high totals and what the marksmen have to do to receive credit. Well, the scoring goes something like this: Each contestant fires ten shots each from three required positions, prone, kneeling and standing. A possible ten points can be scored for each shot thus making 300 in all.

According to the team's director, Air Force Sgt. Gerald Purrell, matches remain for the home forces. Saturday, Washington and Lee will be here.

Set your own "growth pattern" at MELPAR . . .

and Live in the National Capital Area,
The Nation's Finest Community

Have you been asking these questions about your future?

If so, we think our answers may be of interest to you.

QUESTION: Where can I find an opportunity to apply my knowledge to challenging problems and gain recognition and tangible rewards right from the start?

ANSWER: Melpar, unlike a number of organizations, puts recent graduates to work at once. You will work as a member of a small, well-integrated project team. In this way your individual achievements are quickly recognized.

QUESTION: Will I enter Melpar as a trainee, or as a full-fledged engineer?

ANSWER: At Melpar we believe graduates are ready to assume responsibility. As a member of a project team you will be given problems you are equipped to solve; at the same time you will acquire knowledge and experience through association with men of advanced learning.

QUESTION: What are the opportunities for advanced study at Melpar?

ANSWER: You may take advantage of our many graduate, fully accredited in-plant courses, or enroll for study at one of the several fine universities in the Washington Area.

QUESTION: What are my chances for advancement at Melpar?

ANSWER: Melpar has doubled in size every 18 months during the past 10 years. We maintain a policy of encouraging our men by internal promotion. Rarely will Melpar seek outside engineering ability if it can be found within the organization. Periodic salary reviews are made every 6 months.

QUESTION: If I join Melpar can I be assured that high calibre research facilities are available to me?

ANSWER: Yes. Our laboratories are ultra-modern in design and encompass over 265,000 square feet. The most up-to-date facilities for research and testing are at your disposal.

QUESTION: Why is the Washington D. C. Area considered the Nation's finest place to live?

ANSWER: Because it enjoys the nation's highest per capita income; has a climate that permits outdoor recreation for 215 days of the year; is free of heavy industry; virtually depression-proof; and rich in research, cultural and recreational facilities. Melpar is located in suburban Fairfax County, only 10 miles from the Nation's Capital. Housing is reasonable and plentiful.

QUESTION: In what fields are research and development being carried out at Melpar?

ANSWER: Network Theory • Systems Evaluation Microwave Technique • UHF, VHF or SHF Receivers Analog Computers • Magnetic Tape Handling • Digital Computers • Radar and Countermeasures • Packaging Electronic Equipment • Pulse Circuitry Microwave Filters • Flight Simulators • Servomechanisms • Subminiaturization • Electro-Mechanical Design • Small Mechanisms • Quality Control and Test Engineering.

Buff's Big Wins Overshadowed In Maryland Debacle, 67-46

by Paul Welch

• AFTER SCORING impressive wins over both Furman and Richmond, the Colonials had all the steam taken out of them by the Maryland Terps last Saturday. Maryland forged ahead early in the game and had complete control to win 67-46 as they handed the Colonials their worst defeat in five years and broke a 28-game winning streak on the Colonial home courts.

Once again, as in other Colonial defeats, the Terps doubled- and triple-teamed Joe Holup, the mainstay of the club. Joe, who had broken into the 2000 point bracket with a splendid 40-point production against Furman and then broke the school record with 47 points against Richmond, was held to 16 points.

The defense minded Terps bottled up the middle effectively and the playmakers were unable to get the ball into Holup. He took only eight shots, most of them from near the foul circle.

Terps Lead

Bob Kessler put the Terps ahead to stay with a jump shot with 1:42 left and then increased it to a 28 to 24 score at half. The Terps surged ahead to a 45 to 32 lead with ten minutes to go as the Colonials were held scoreless in the first five minutes of play.

Last Monday the Colonials played Furman with their race-horse style of play and found it much to their liking. Joe Holup outscored and outplayed the All American Darrell Floyd as the team surged from behind at half to take an impressive 126 to 109 win. The Colonials set a new school record, breaking the old one of 116.

Breaks Record

In a tune-up game for Maryland last Thursday, the Colonials got their revenge as they rolled over the Richmond Spiders by a 103 to 84 score. The win boosted the Colonials into first place in the Southern Conference standings with a 8-2 record. Joe Holup led the Colonial five with 47 points.

The Colonials will play three home games this week, starting with a Southern Conference tilt with William & Mary tonight at Washington-Lee High School. The Colonials fans also will be in for a treat when Furman plays here Friday night at Uline Arena, with Joe Holup again competing against Darrell Floyd. The West Point Academy visits here Saturday night at Fort Myer.

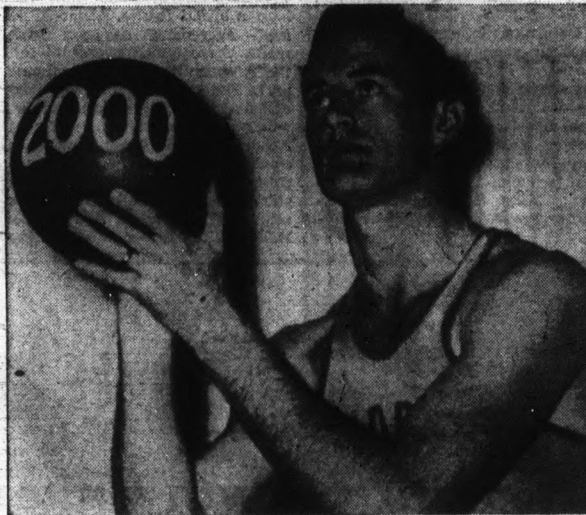

Girl Cagers Win First Two Games

• THE GIRL'S Basketball squad defeated Galludet College in two games played last Wednesday night in the Tin Tabernacle. The squad, coached by Miss Stallings was broken up into two teams, the Buff and the Blue.

The "Buff" team came through in fine style, defeating the Galludet first team by a 46 to 22 score. Carol Hesse led the Buff in scoring 21 points. The other starting forwards were Ethel Tucker and Nancy Bealle. The starting guards were Carol Dalton, Jo Peters and Margaret Rohlings.

The "Blue" team also won its game with Joanne Phelas scoring 19 points in a 30 to 18 win.

The next game is against Marjorie Webster College this Wednesday night at Marjorie Webster.

• IT'S GOOD to be back at the old stand again pounding out copy for the Intramural Sports Department. During the past two months it seems that every column has included a farewell for, or a welcome back from, vacation time. The Spring term will be without a break until April, and during this time the program will be in full swing with participation in wrestling, boxing, volleyball and table tennis.

Last Thursday the members of the Intramural Council were briefed on wrestling, the next activity on the calendar. Wrestling has been scheduled for March 2.

Intramural basketball scores for February 11 and 12. Following the score is the high scorer for the winning team:

LEAGUE A: Acacia vs. SPE, double forfeit; ROTC 66-Pirates 22 (Phillips, 32); Med School Juniors 63-Newman Club 30 (Boor and Woody tied for high scoring honors with 15 points).

LEAGUE B: PIKA "B" 42-Kappa Sig 17 (Posta, 21); Welling Hall forfeited to the Pharmers; Med School Sophs 49-Med School Frosh 35 (Collins).

LEAGUE C: Law School 47-Theta Tau 12 (Stone, 20); TKE 37-Sigma Chi "B" 24 (Morris and Neilsen had 10 points for the winners, while Holtz scored 10 for the Sigs); Jersey Cats forfeited to PIKA "A" team.

LEAGUE D: Jersians 55-AEP 44 D'Ambrosio, 20); DTD 34-Phi Sig 21 (Turner, 12); Sigma Nu 27-Alphans 14 (Green, 13); Delta Theta Phi 29-TEP 27 (Hilderly and Schlemmer, 10 points).

LEAGUE E: Yankees forfeited to Kappa Alpha; Theta Delta forfeited to SAE; Sigma Chi "A" 59-Colonials 51 (Valdiserri of the Colonials had 24 points, while Looney scored 21 for the Sigs.)
